Scrutiny Review of Care Homes for Older People

Consideration was given to the draft final report of the Scrutiny Review of Care Homes for Older People. The main findings and subsequent recommendations were highlighted as follows:

- The report's conclusion recognised the importance of strong leadership and management in improving quality care, though acknowledged the challenges around staff turnover.
- The Council's quality assurance work and the introduction of the Well Led Programme had led to improved CQC ratings across the Borough, and the recommendations within the report sought to build on this work.
- Continuing to improve leadership and management via involvement in the Well Led Programme and participation in the Care Home Leadership and Peer Support Network was a key recommendation. The importance of personalised care, maintaining appropriate staffing levels, and promoting adult social care careers was also highlighted, as was care homes working towards Dementia Friendly accreditation.

Discussion on the final report was noted as follows:

- Retention of Care Home managers had been identified as an issue, but the Local Authority were doing everything possible to support managers in their role. Ultimately, the care homes themselves are responsible for who they employ.

- Members requested future data on CQC-rating benchmarks and how Stockton-on-Tees care homes were comparing to those regionally and nationally.
- Members asked if there was any more the Council could do to encourage providers to join the Well Led Programme as it had had clear benefits (referenced by the CQC in their inspections). It was hoped that a second programme (lasting 4/5 days across a number of months) could be confirmed within the next few weeks as some care homes had already expressed interest in future participation.
- Whilst leadership is vital, the success of a care home is down to the team as a whole – all staff need to be made to feel valued. Issues in relation to staff turnover can be seen on a national level, but it is crucial that staff really get to know the people who reside at a care home in order to provide personalised care.
- The recent achievement of The White House Care Home in receiving an overall 'outstanding' grade following their latest CQC inspection was highlighted, and it was agreed that this success should be included in a future edition of Stockton News.
- Healthwatch would continue to carry out 'enter and view' visits to care homes. On a positive note, Members were informed that one care home that had previously refused such a visit had now requested one.

AGREED that the final report be approved for submission to Cabinet.

ASH 50/19 Care Quality Commission (CQC) Update - State of Care Annual Report

The Committee was informed that the CQC representatives who were scheduled to attend this meeting to provide an overview of the CQC State of Care Annual Report could no longer be present. This item would therefore be deferred to a future Committee meeting.

AGREED that the Care Quality Commission (CQC) Update - State of Care Annual Report item be deferred to a future Committee meeting.

ASH 51/19 Scrutiny Review of Hospital Discharge

Consideration was given to the scope and project plan for the Scrutiny Review of Hospital Discharge.

With a focus on those discharged back to their own home (not care homes), this review would aim to:

- Examine the discharge process from local hospitals who provide treatment for the Borough's adult residents, and the wider communication with relevant partner organisations.
- Ascertain the key issues around discharge from both a Trust and patient perspective to ensure a safe and sustained return home following hospital input.

- Explore how carers are identified when needing hospital treatment and the measures required for ensuring the people they care for are supported during their stay in hospital (and potentially for a time following their discharge).
- Determine if any improvements can be made to current policies and procedures.

In addition to the Local Authority, a number of contributors had been identified, including North Tees and South Tees Trusts, CCG, TEWV, the Ambulance Service, Home Care providers and Eastern Ravens.

Committee discussions were noted as follows:

- Whilst acknowledging the focus on people who are being discharged to their own home as opposed to a care home, Members considered whether the review should include the Rosedale Centre – an establishment where people can be discharged to on a short-term basis before returning home. It was felt that although the process around short-term placements could be looked at as part of this work (particularly since other care homes across the Borough also provide assessment beds), the review should maintain its focus on discharge to a person's own home. It was subsequently suggested that Rosedale and other short-term accommodation may instead be a potential topic for a future scrutiny review.
- Five Lamps, a local provider of home care, are involved in a 'Home Sooner Safer Project' – would be beneficial to receive more information on this.
- Healthwatch had recently completed an 'enter and view' report on A&E, and this could be factored into the review.

AGREED that the draft scope and project plan of the review be approved.
