Dear Colleague,

E-CINS – Progress so far in Cleveland and future opportunities

I wanted to take this opportunity to update you and your organisation regarding the progress we've made so far on E-CINS, and encourage you to support us working further together in future in this important area of collaboration.

You will find details attached to this letter of the progress made so far in terms of the range of users, and potential future users, we are in discussion with, and some possible future areas of development.

I have funded, with some support from other partners, the E-CINS system on an ongoing basis and we have appointed Denise Holian (tel 01642 301443, email Denise.Holian@cleveland.pnn.police.uk) who is based in my office and is happy to assist in terms of information, support and general development work with partners re E-CINS.

Also attached are examples of savings which have been made using the system, and I would also ask that any agency considering future information systems consider alongside any such costs the alternative of the considerable benefits via E-CINS.

Given the climate of austerity we're all having to work in, we do need to continue to work as closely together as possible. Our ability to access and share information jointly, much of which may involve the same individuals or locations, is an important part of that joint work and also increases the prospect of getting results.

The Police & Crime Commissioner for Cleveland is an accredited Living Wage Employer with the Living Wage Foundation.

I'm committed to supporting and developing a common information system as long as I'm in this role, and I hope we can all develop a continuing commitment to this important area of work.

If you have any questions or comments, or we can otherwise assist, please contact Denise, or Sarah Wilson, in my office.

Yours sincerely
