EXC Scrutiny Review of Access to GP, Urgent and Emergency Care

4/14

The Committee considered a report that presented the outcomes of the Adult Services and Health Select Committee's review of access to GP,urgent and emergency care for residents of Stockton Borough.

It was explained that the Committee had found that demand on GPs, urgent care and emergency services continued to increase. This demand and the continuing pressure on budgets meant it was more important than ever to make the most of available resources.

Equally, the public expected to have access to care when needed; whether this was the ability to register at a GP Practice and receive appointments in a timely manner, or when calling 999.

Often it was the case that patients could have been treated by more appropriate services to the ones they had used. It was noted that, ultimately, people would go to where they were confident they would be seen and receive the treatment they needed, or believed they needed.

The Select Committee suggested that, in order to try and ensure that people used the right treatment at the right time, the system must be made as simple as possible to navigate with appropriate guidance communicated to local residents.

The Select Committee had recognised that a great deal of work was taking place on this agenda and it had made recommendations to assist with these efforts. Details of all the recommendations were provided to members.

The Committee considered the report and its recommendations. The Committee agreed that the report was excellent and it requested that a recommendation be made to Cabinet that the report be widely circulated to partners and the public.

RESOLVED that the report be noted and Cabinet be requested to agree that the report be widely circulated to partners and the public.
