ESC Scrutiny Review of Flooding Resilience

55/16

Consideration was given to a report that presented the Place Select Committee findings following the Scrutiny Review of Flooding Resilience.

The Committee's report made recommendations to assist the Council and partner agencies respond to the number and level of flooding incidents that were of increased concern to residents.

Members were given the opportunity to ask questions and make comment on the report and recommendations. Some these questions and comments could be summarised as follows:-

- The Environment Agency had lowered the risk level in the Lustrum Beck area where work had been undertaken for the provision of flood defences
- With regard to Emergency Planning, Members could play a key role in signposting members of the public to services.
- The issue of contamination of water in Coatham Wood was raised and whether it was being dealt with. This would be reported back to the Committee.
- Northumbria Water prefer smaller gullies as this makes the water move quicker and prevents stagnation

Member noted the findings and supported the recommendations contained in the report.

RESOLVED that the report be noted, and the information requested be provided.

ESC Scrutiny Review of Dog Fouling Enforcement

56/16

Consideration was given to a report that presented the Crime and Disorder Select Committee findings following the Scrutiny Review of Dog Fouling Enforcement.

The Committee's report made recommendations to assist the Council in providing an appropriate response to the level of dog fouling incidents that were a regular concern to residents reported to Members.

The review was undertaken at the request of the Lead Cabinet Member initially to examine the use of dog DNA to identify dogs and subsequently their owners failing to dispose of the faeces responsibly. The review also scrutinised other aspects of enforcement.

Members were given the opportunity to ask questions and make comment on the report and recommendations. Some these questions and comments could be summarised as follows:-

- Many records of micro-chipping owners of dogs were out of date. It was felt that it would be helpful if the one-stop on the SBC website could include change of address details for dog owners or include a reminder.
- Funding was a big issue for the review. The Dog Welfare and Enforcement Team were much stretched. New signage to cover legislation across the Borough would incur costs.

- Levels of dog fouling should be continued to be monitored by the Crime and Disorder Committee as part of its ongoing work.

Member noted the findings and supported the recommendations contained in the report.

RESOLVED that:-

1. The report be noted, and the Committee's suggestions be forwarded to the Service.
2. Crime and Disorder Committee monitor levels of dog fouling on an on-going basis.

Review of Disadvantage in Early Years and School

Consideration was given to a report that presented the outcomes of the People Select Committee's review of Disadvantage in Early Years and School. The main focus of the review was tackling disadvantage in the early years, including school readiness. The impact of disadvantage on a child's development and education was widely recognised, as was the crucial importance of the first five years of a child's life.

Some children in the Borough needed to be supported to catch up significantly on a range of factors such as socialisation. The review also intended to follow on from the review of Child Poverty and examine how Pupil Premium was being used in the Borough, and consider the role of the new Early Years Pupil Premium.

Members were given the opportunity to ask questions and make comment on the report and recommendations. Some these questions and comments could be summarised as follows:-

- The impact on universal school meals on free school meals should be circulated to the Committee
- Outreach workers were active in the community to increase take up of the funded childcare offer
- Free school meals was still the best indicator of deprivation
- The working poor may also qualify for free school meals
- Pupil premium can make a huge difference to the budget of a school
- An article advertising free school meal / pupil premium take up should be included in Stockton News

The Chair wished it to be recorded that the Select Committees were working exceptionally hard and producing some outstanding work.

Member noted the findings and supported the recommendations contained in the report.

RESOLVED that the report be noted, and the information requested be provided.
