Press Release

Photo opportunity: Stockton Mayor Paul Kirton will be officially opening the new practice at 91 Skinner Street, Stockton, at 12pm on Friday November 6.

Dental practice set to take on 4,000 NHS patients

A new dental practice will officially be opened in Stockton tomorrow (FRIDAY NOVEMBER 6) providing NHS places for up to 4,000 patients.

Around 500 people have already registered with the Watch Dental Clinic in Skinner Street, Stockton.

Dentist Neil Kerruish, who has opened the practice with partners Samy Solaiman and Karl Nightingale, said they offer a full range of NHS treatment and evening appointments.

“We are open for emergency and registered patients in the NHS Stockton area,” he said.

“It’s a brilliant new state of the art dental surgery which can be accessed immediately by anyone who would like quality NHS treatment.

“There’s a big demand for NHS dental treatment in Stockton and we hope we can fill that gap.”

The practice will be officially opened by Stockton Mayor Paul Kirton at 12pm tomorrow (FRIDAY NOVEMBER 6).

To register at Watch Dental Clinic simply call into the practice or phone 01642 603799.
