Foreword

I am very pleased to introduce the 2013/14 Annual Report of the Teeswide Safeguarding Adults Board in my first year as Independent Chair.

There is a history of working jointly across Tees and the decision that the Board should take on the statutory responsibilities as outlined in the Care Act 2014 was a bold one. I am encouraged by the commitment of all the partners to make these innovative arrangements work and there has been significant investment of resources in the Board, reflecting the priority given to safeguarding across Tees. The Board will build on the excellent work of the four local safeguarding adults committees in Hartlepool, Middlesbrough, Redcar & Cleveland and Stockton-on-Tees, and they will continue to have a key role as strong local operational partnerships.

At a time of major organisational and legislative change the safeguarding adults agenda has never been more important. Nationally there has been a focus on the quality of services, particularly for those adults who rely on others to help them in their day to day lives. Protecting adults at risk will always be the main priority, but the Board will also concentrate on developing ways of raising awareness and preventing harm. In this report you will find information about safeguarding trends, contributions from partner agencies and it shows how the Board has been instrumental in enabling organisations to work together on wider projects to help safeguard adults at risk across the Tees area.

The Board has an ambitious work plan for the year ahead, and is preparing to respond to the challenges of implementing the Care Act 2014. I am confident that the Board will deliver on this and respond to the many national challenges ahead, making a difference to the lives of vulnerable people.

Ann Baxter
Independent Chair

Safeguarding Adults Arrangements across Tees – a new approach

There is a history of working jointly across Tees to prevent harm, reduce risk and respond effectively when harm or abuse occurs. The Care Bill, which became law in May 2014, created a legal framework for adult safeguarding with the aim that this will enable key organisations and individuals to agree how they will work together to keep adults at risk safe.

Local authorities must establish a Safeguarding Adults Board in their area, to develop shared strategies for safeguarding and to report to their local communities on progress. Instead of having four separate Boards there was consensus across Tees that this statutory responsibility should rest with the Teeswide Safeguarding Adults Board (TSAB), working closely with four Local Executive Groups (LEGs) which have operational responsibility for adult safeguarding at area level.

In making this commitment Hartlepool, Middlesbrough, Redcar & Cleveland and Stockton-on-Tees Councils agreed, in conjunction with the funding partners (North and South Clinical Commissioning Groups, Cleveland Police and NHS England) to fund the development of a centralised Business Unit to support and advise the TSAB in the exercise of its statutory functions and the LEGs in the exercise of their operational functions.

One of the first tasks of the new TSAB was to appoint an Independent Chair and the role from the outset has provided objectivity and clarity in terms of the future direction of the Board.

Teeswide Safeguarding Adults Board

The following organisations were represented on the Board in 2013-14:

National Context

As the Care Bill worked its way through Parliament during the year other national developments have had an impact on the work of the Board. The Government issued a Statement on Adult Safeguarding in May 2013 which included a statement of principles for Local Authority Social Services and housing, health, the police and other agencies to use, for both developing and assessing the effectiveness of their local safeguarding arrangements:

- Empowerment – person led decisions and informed consent
- Prevention – take action before harm occurs
- Proportionality – proportionate response to the risk presented
- Protection – support and representation for those in greatest need
- Partnership – local solutions through services working with their communities
- Accountability – accountability and transparency in delivering safeguarding

At a national level the NHS produced a new accountability and assurance framework for the future NHS and the Care Quality Commission produced a strategy for 2013- 16 with the aim of making sure that health and social care services provide people with safe, effective and high quality services. The TSAB will have the capacity to provide a co-ordinated, strategic response to national, regional and local policy developments and this will support partners in their ability to meet the challenges of the safeguarding agenda.

Multi-agency achievements

It has been a year of transition for the TSAB. The Board finalised the governance and funding arrangements and extended its Business Plan for a further year. Its priorities were:

- Ensure safeguarding across the Teeswide area is personalised and supportive
- Increase prosecution rates for perpetrators who commit offences against vulnerable adults
- Ensure a consistent approach is developed across the Teeswide area to tackle Hate Crime
- Ensure that commissioned services provide and deliver high quality and safe care for vulnerable adults both in and out of area

In addition to changing the governance arrangements and making a commitment to future funding arrangements, key achievements included:

- Implementation of Witness Support Preparation and Profiling Protocol and successful outcome to the first case using a trained profiler at Crown Court
- Development of an Integrated Case Review process to prevent duplication, improve timescales and the sharing of lessons learned

- Launch of the Tees Safe Place scheme across the Cleveland Police area for people with learning disabilities
- Implementation of Serious Concerns Protocol with partners to ensure a timely, proportionate and effective response in cases where several adults are at risk of harm in the same service
- Evaluation of the Expert by Experience project in Hartlepool which enabled people to express their views about the local safeguarding process and their involvement
- Review of Teeswide Safeguarding Adults Inter-Agency Policy
- Performance framework developed in Redcar & Cleveland with the aim of adopting this Teeswide

Teeswide Local Authorities

Hartlepool Council, Middlesbrough Council, Redcar & Cleveland Council and Stockton-on-Tees Council have continued to develop and deliver effective safeguarding systems, co-ordinate the work of statutory and voluntary partners through the local safeguarding adults committees and contribute to the wider goal of improving the independence and wellbeing of adults at risk.

Safeguarding practice across Tees was strengthened by:

- Protecting vulnerable adults through Cleveland Fire Brigade's Stay Safe and Warm Initiative
- Ensuring that specialist safeguarding resources were targeted at the more serious cases of risk to vulnerable adults by promoting use of the Tees Threshold Guide
- Improving the engagement of the adult at risk, their relatives and advocates in the safeguarding process
- Raising awareness through participation in the North East Radio/Poster campaign
- Promoting and monitoring the delivery of better quality care services
- Raising awareness to encourage reporting of Disability Hate Crime
- Analysing the training needs of staff and reviewing the training programme. Individual local authorities commissioned the following courses which were taken up across Tees: Intermediate Training; Safeguarding Planning & Investigating; Chairing Safeguarding meetings; Court Skills; Safeguarding & the Mental Capacity Act and, for the first time, training on Financial Abuse

Cleveland Police

Protecting vulnerable people is a key priority for the force, with the Chief Constable and the Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC) committed to improving policing services to victims and witnesses.

- During 2013/14 a new force structure was unveiled, which changed and improved the way officers respond to incidents and information. This includes twice daily 'pacesetter' meetings to respond dynamically to current crime and antisocial behaviour problems and intelligence. During these meetings, officers across the force come together to consider the threat, risk and harm to the community and will address issues concerning the protection of vulnerable people as a high priority.
- The new structure also sees a new Crime and Justice Command, which includes specialist crime teams. One of these teams is dedicated to dealing with issues concerning vulnerable adults and consists of a detective sergeant and four detective constables. Despite the reduction in police officer numbers overall, Cleveland Police has increased its commitment to protecting vulnerable people by allocating an additional detective to the team during 2014. Detectives in the vulnerable adults team look at crime trends and improve their training in line with changing crime types in the local area. More recently they have had additional training in dealing with financial investigations, due to the increased number of financial abuse cases being referred to them.
- Cleveland Police has given a further commitment to addressing hate crime and in particular, raising awareness and increasing the reporting of crimes against people with disabilities. Part of this commitment includes ongoing work with staff and officers to help them understand the impact of disability hate crime and how it should be dealt with. The Force has secured additional funding to employ a dedicated hate crime coordinator to improve the response and understanding in this area and enhance multi-agency work. Cleveland Police officers continue to work widely with statutory and voluntary agencies at all levels and contribute to various forums, including strategic boards and local community meetings.
- The nationally acclaimed Street Triage Project, in which mental health professionals work alongside police colleagues, has reduced significantly the number of vulnerable people being arrested under the Mental Health Act. By working together, those with mental health issues can be identified and given the appropriate support they need. Cleveland Police is also involved in a programme of dementia training where local policing teams receive information to enable them to understand the signs of dementia and the support services available in the community. Members of the wider community are also assisting vulnerable people through the Safe Place Scheme. This scheme ensures that staff in identified public places, such as shops and community centres, are aware of vulnerability issues and can help someone they come into contact with who is concerned or who needs support.

Durham Tees Valley Probation Trust

Durham Tees Valley Probation Trust was replaced on 1st June 2014 by the creation of a new National Probation Service (NPS) and the Durham Tees Valley Community Rehabilitation Company Limited (DTVCR).

The NPS is now responsible for all initial offender assessments, provision of advice and information to Sentencers and the direct supervision of high risk of harm offenders. The CRC retains responsibility for managing low and medium risk of harm cases, provision of accredited programmes and the resettlement of prisoners.

The NPS and CRC will continue to work collaboratively with all community partners to ensure that the diverse needs of offenders are properly met. Both organisations are aware of the vulnerability of some of their service users and the potential for harm. During the past year the Trust provided opportunities for staff to increase their awareness of vulnerability issues and training was taken up by a good proportion of staff. The NPS and CRC will continue to maintain this commitment to raising awareness and increasing the ability of staff to better manage vulnerable adults under their supervision.

NHS England

- Membership of Teeswide Safeguarding Adults Board
- Contributed to Serious Case Review working collaboratively with the Clinical Commissioning Group
- Hosted regional Prevent Co-coordinator post and supported local providers in training; funded and facilitated Mental Capacity Act training

NHS Hartlepool and Stockton-On-Tees Clinical Commissioning Group and NHS South Tees Clinical Commissioning Group

- The NHS reforms have resulted in the establishment of new organisations with different roles, responsibilities and expectations. In April 2013, Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs), led by GPs and other clinicians, took over responsibility from Primary Care Trusts (PCTs) for the commissioning of most local healthcare services. As statutory organisations CCGs are responsible for ensuring that the organisations from which they commission services provide a safe system that safeguards vulnerable adults.
- NHS Hartlepool and Stockton-On-Tees Clinical Commissioning Group and NHS South Tees Clinical Commissioning Group are two separate and distinct organisations who are supported by a single Executive Nurse, and Head of Quality and Safeguarding (Adults) with responsibility for ensuring the CCGs fulfil their statutory safeguarding adults duties and responsibilities on Teesside. The CCGs are assisted in the delivery of their commissioning responsibilities and statutory functions by the North of England Commissioning Support Service (NECS).
- As newly established commissioning organisations the CCGs have fortified their safeguarding assurance processes internally and with regards to commissioned services, strengthened their reporting arrangements, and are monitoring more focused and meaningful adult safeguarding quality metrics through contract and quality review CCG governance processes.
- As core members of the Teeswide Safeguarding Vulnerable Adults Board both NHS Hartlepool and Stockton-on-Tees Clinical Commissioning Group and NHS South Tees Clinical Commissioning Group have contributed to the work of the Board, assisting in shaping its development and led on the revision of the local policy and several health as well as multidisciplinary protocols. The Board has also been informed of the implications of Francis and Winterbourne contextualised in relation to safeguarding in the NHS noting the actions being taken by NHS Commissioners and Providers.
- The CCGs remain committed to working with all partners to safeguard adults at risk of abuse and neglect during 2014/15 underpinned and endorsed by the new legal framework.

North Tees and Hartlepool NHS Foundation Trust

The Trust has implemented a number of improvements to further embed adult safeguarding across the organisation including greater investment in clinically based resources to support practice.

- North Tees and Hartlepool NHS Foundation Trust continues to work to enhance and develop standards for safeguarding adults across the hospitals and community.
- During 2012-2013 the trust invested in a specialist nurse learning disabilities post in order to strengthen leadership and deliver improvements in care of people with learning disabilities and strengthen safeguards.
- The specialist nurse portfolio includes responsibility for adult protection and incorporates the wider aspects of safeguarding vulnerable adults.
- Provision of specialist advice relating to implementation of the Mental Capacity Act, Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards and the Human Rights Act provides added assurance that the Trust remains compliant with legislation.
- Provision of a programme of training to staff at all levels which meets the needs of individual roles.

South Tees Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust

- South Tees Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust has continued to push forward the safeguarding adults agenda within financially straitened times.
- Additional resource has been allocated in the short term to support the safeguarding adults agenda.
- Both Safeguarding adults and Mental Capacity act training are mandatory for all clinical staff.
- The trust has robust governance arrangements around the safeguarding adults agenda and produces a quarterly activity report and an annual report to the Board of Directors.
- Safeguarding adults has been identified as one of only four areas of practice for clinical matrons throughout the trust, the others being infection prevention and control, pressure area care and patient experience.
- A project plan is being developed to more firmly embed safeguarding adults practice within the day to day practice of each of the trusts clinical centres.

Tees, Esk and Wear Valleys NHS Foundation Trust

Tees, Esk and Wear Valleys NHS Foundation Trust strives to continually develop and improve the services we provide to patients, their families and carers.

Our aim is to deliver the perfect patient experience, each and every time. This is not only about the effectiveness of our staff and the services they work in, but crucially is also about the way we work with each person who is referred to our services and, where appropriate their family and carers.

Our purpose is to improve lives by minimising the impact of mental ill health or a learning disability, and to help people lead a healthy, self-determined life.

We have continued to prioritise safeguarding as one of the Trust's strategic objectives in order to safeguard and promote the welfare of all adults who come into contact with our services and monitor its effectiveness through the Trust's governance arrangements; we remain fully committed to the safeguarding adult partnership.

There has been an increase in dedicated resources to support the safeguarding agenda. The Trust safeguarding adult team provides ongoing support, advice and training in response to the safeguarding portfolio that includes Multi Agency Public Protection Arrangements (MAPPA), Prevent and the Domestic Abuse agenda (including Multi-Agency Risk Assessment Conference) and it also supports the Trust to monitor the quality of services and outcomes for patients that access services.

The Trust has responded to key recommendations from inquiries such as Winterbourne and Francis and is looking at how to share the lessons learnt and is supporting a Lessons Learnt project to demonstrate improvements and improve learning and sharing across the Trust.

Providing the staff with the appropriate level of knowledge remains a key priority in order to support the multi-agency procedures and ensure all staff have the level of safeguarding training identified in order to carry out their role, and both Alerter and Intermediate level training is available internally to facilitate this.

Case Studies

Two case studies contrast the different nature of cases dealt with through safeguarding and highlight the importance of focusing on effective outcomes for the individuals involved – one an individual with autism and asperger's syndrome at risk both from a family member and from others in the community, the other a group of residents in a care home at risk from poor practice and inadequate management.

Case Study 1

Mr A, an individual with autism and asperger's syndrome, was homeless and had been physically and sexually assaulted. He was denied access to his money by a family member. The immediate response to the safeguarding alert was to talk to Mr A and take steps to help him find somewhere to live. He was able to stay with a friend on a temporary basis and an urgent application for housing was made. Mr A agreed to be referred to a Clinical Psychologist so that a formal diagnosis could be made and the Learning Disability Team subsequently became involved and offered specialist support.

An Independent Mental Capacity Advocate worked with Mr A throughout the safeguarding adults process and with their support he was able to attend most meetings and express his views. Mr A's benefits were frozen so as to prevent the family member denying him access to his money, and the Council's Property and Finance Team supported Mr A in managing his finances. Discussions with the police led to a Community Support Officer engaging with Mr A and his failure to attend court for an offence he had committed was resolved through the input of the Probation Service.

Mr A was found accommodation in an area where he was accepted and where he could be close to people who were able to offer him support. Assistance was given to help Mr A furnish his new home and a referral was made to Harbour (a voluntary organisation delivering a range of services to improve the quality of life for families and individuals experiencing domestic abuse). Harbour worked with Mr A to develop strategies to help keep himself safe. At the final meeting Mr A presented as a very happy and excited man who had been given the opportunity to get his life back on track.

Case Study 2

A high volume of referrals were received about a care home providing nursing and residential care for older people and the concerns raised were in relation to poor quality care, poor nutrition, inadequate management, low staffing levels and an over reliance on agency and bank nurses. The Serious Concerns Protocol provided the framework for all the agencies involved and the provider to work together to deliver improvements in care for all the residents.

The police considered a potential charge of corporate neglect, the Clinical Commissioning Group had a role in addressing the quality of nursing care, Tees, Esk and Wear Valleys NHS Foundation Trust worked with the home to support the needs of residents with mental health needs and Environmental Health were involved to ensure standards were met. The Local Authority co-ordinated the multi-agency process and the Safeguarding Adults team, Social Work teams and the Contracts Compliance team all worked closely with the Regional Managers, Manager and staff of the home to bring about the necessary changes. Given the serious nature of the concerns and the number of agencies involved clear communication with residents and family members was a vital part of the process.

It took time before the provider became fully engaged with the process and it was only when a new manager was appointed that an action plan was confirmed that would deliver improvements in care for all the residents. The process was very challenging for all parties involved but did demonstrate some excellent partnership working and resulted in a positive outcome for the residents of that establishment, their families and for the staff working there. The good working relationships established have continued to be beneficial, and have been helpful in responding effectively to a more recent concern raised by a relative.

Safeguarding Activity

The TSAB received reports on the data collected through the Local Authority Abuse of Vulnerable Adults return and its replacement, the national Safeguarding Adults Return. The TSAB used the analysis of the data to identify trends across Tees. There is commitment to collecting and presenting data from a range of agencies with a role in safeguarding adults, and the Board recognises the need to improve the quality of its activity and performance reports. This is a priority for the coming year.

The detailed data is recorded in Appendix 1 of the report and the key points to highlight are:

- A total of 3,400 alerts were recorded, exactly the same number as the previous year.
- Over a third of alerts were accepted as referrals. Stockton-on-Tees had the lowest conversion rate at 29%, whereas Redcar & Cleveland had the highest rate at 48%. The difference in conversion rates was more marked last year (from 28% to 73%), and this suggests that the threshold guide developed to support the screening process has been applied more consistently across Tees.
- Middlesbrough and Stockton-on-Tees reported an increase in referrals whereas Hartlepool and Redcar & Cleveland reported a drop in referrals; overall the rate of referrals as a proportion of the adult population remains relatively low compared to benchmark group data.
- Allegations of neglect and physical abuse continue to be the most commonly reported types of abuse, reflecting the nature of concerns raised about residents in care homes.
- Allegations of sexual abuse remain extremely low (43 referrals, 3% of the total) which compares to a national and north east rate of 5%.
- More cases of institutional abuse were recorded this year (50 compared to 10 in 2012/13), although Stockton-on-Tees did not report any cases in this category. This increase might be due in part to the fact that the Serious Concerns Protocol provides a rationale for making this judgement and therefore Local Authorities will be more confident about recording this type of abuse.
- The majority of referrals continue to relate to incidents in care homes. Compared to Hartlepool and Middlesbrough, Redcar & Cleveland and Stockton-on-Tees report proportionally more referrals in which 'own home' is recorded as the location of abuse. This might suggest that there is greater awareness of potential safeguarding issues in those communities.

- On average 52% of case conclusions were in the categories ‘substantiated’ and ‘partly substantiated’. This is higher than the national rate of 43.9% in 2012/13. There is greater consistency across Tees in terms of cases ‘not substantiated’ as each area recorded that conclusion in just under a third of cases. Although this is slightly above the national rate of 29.3% in 2012/13 it is not at a level that indicates inappropriate referrals are being accepted.
- Outcomes for individuals are now recorded in terms of risk, and the most common outcome in Hartlepool and Stockton-on-Tees was that risk was reduced (49% and 42% of cases respectively), whereas in Middlesbrough and Redcar & Cleveland the most common outcome was no further action under safeguarding (46% and 52% of cases respectively), followed by risk reduced (38% and 44% of cases respectively).

Information about Mental Capacity Act Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards activity is recorded in Appendix 2. During 2014 a number of high profile cases have progressed through the English and European Courts establishing new interpretations of the Mental Capacity Act 2005 and regulations. The impact of these changes has been significant and the changes to the Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards threshold have resulted in greatly increased activity.

Looking ahead – the priorities

The TSAB will develop a strategic plan and detailed action plan for the period up to March 2016. One of the main priorities of the Board is to improve its understanding of people’s experiences of safeguarding across the Board partnership. Its key strategic aims are:

- Be assured that communities know what safeguarding means and what they can do to protect themselves.
- Be assured of the experience of service users in safeguarding across the Board partnership.
- Be assured that systems are in place for the commissioning of safe services and that processes are in place to escalate risks and concerns.
- Ensure that the Board is led and governed effectively, partners are accountable and that reporting arrangements with other partnerships are in place.
- Develop, monitor and review the implementation and effectiveness of Teeswide policies and procedures.
- Implement a Learning & Improvement Framework and use the feedback to increase understanding and improve practice across the Board partnership
